

Caption: A purple flower on an orange and green background. The stem of the flower is a hand and arm with the word "impossible" written on it.

A growing inconvenience?

ARTIST: Annie Young

A growing inconvenience? is my interpretation of what it means to live with a disability diff-ability. My hand reaching across two canvases represents the divide between those who are considered 'normal' and those who live with disability. It is my hope that this piece continues the conversation as to what disability diff-ability means and how we can move towards growing a beautifully inclusive world!

This work is funded in part by a grant from the Arts and Cultural Heritage Fund. The Minnesota Historical and Cultural Grants Program is made possible by the Arts and Cultural Heritage Fund through the vote of Minnesotans on November 4, 2008.